About the team

Mental Health Support Teams are made up of Education Mental Health Practitioners, often referred to as EMHPs, Senior Practitioners and clinical and professional leadership (psychology and social work).

The role of the EMHP

EMHPs work across education and healthcare to provide mental health support for children and young people. They are based directly in schools and colleges and deliver low intensity interventions such as guided self help based on cognitive behavioural therapy (CBT) and group based CBT. They also support schools and colleges on whole school initiatives aimed at preventing mental health problems.

They also have access to key contacts and information on other services which are available to children and young people, and can help to refer, or provide referral information if the individual would be better supported by an alternative service, such as CAMHS.

Requesting support

Requests for support for a child or young person must be completed by a member of staff at the school, or another appropriate professional.

To request support for a student, please complete the 'request for support' form which should be available in your education setting. If you cannot find this, please contact your school or college's designated mental health lead or a member of the Mental Health Support Team. Please do not share these contact details outside of school/college networks.
